

STORY: Pet Pigs Inspire Inventor

Story Sentences:

“After all, electricity is a substance like water. Turning on a lamp is like opening a tap.”

SCIENCE CLAIM 1:

Story Sentences

“The clamp grips the outside of the electric cord, which is plastic. That’s a really good insulator.”

SCIENCE CLAIM 2:

STORY: Pet Pigs Inspire Inventor

Story Sentences:

“Electricity only flows through the copper wire inside. They use copper because it’s a great conductor.”

SCIENCE CLAIM 3:

Story Sentences:

Many people think charging a phone battery means filling it up with electricity. Not so, says GG. “Batteries don’t store electricity. They store chemical energy.”

SCIENCE CLAIM 4: